'I Will Remain Here In Free Country'—Homeland Shunned By Czech Diplomat

Ivan Kerno, Assistant Secretary General Of U.N., Calls Stalin A Promise Violator

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—Ivan Kerno, a Czech assistant secretary general of the United Nations, announced Monday night that he will never return to his Communist-dominated homeland.

Kerno, one of the ranking Iron Curtain diplomats in the U. S., denounced Stalin for violating his promise not to interfere in Czech internal affairs.

The 61-year-old Kerno, a member of the Czech diplomatic service since 1918, made his sensational announcement during a radio-TV show, "United or Not," emanating from the United Nations.

Kerno declared: "I will remain here in this great and free country of the U. S. to continue work on international problems."

Second To Quit
He was the second Czech diplomat to quit the Communist government and remain in the U. S. In 1948, shortly after the mysterious death of Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk, the chief Czech delegate to U. N. Dr. Jan Papánek, resigned with a scathing denunciation of the satellite government.

By odd coincidence, Kerno's move came shortly after the arrival in the U. S. of Valerian A. Zorin, the Russian, who, as then ambassador to Prague, masterminded the Communist coup. Zorin is to take charge of Russia's U. N. delegation when Jacob Malik leaves.

He said that, although retiring from his post as assistant U. N. secretary-general in charge of legal affairs, he will remain at the U. N. as an adviser.

Feels Free To Speak
If any complication should arise, prejudicing his right to remain in the U. S. as a U. N. official, Kerno said, he will probably appeal to U. S. officials for the right of asylum. He indicated that he has already discussed the matter with U. S. officials.

Kerno, appointed to his U. N. post in 1946 by the pre-Communist government, said that he had never before spoken out on the Communist seizure of Czechoslovakia because as a U. N. official he had to show neutrality.

Now that he is retiring, he added, he feels free to speak.

YMCA Report Reveals Huge Year's Growth

An increase of 300 adult YMCA members and a program "considerably expanded in volume and extent of activities" over the past year was reported at the semi-annual meeting of the YMCA Program Service Committee Monday night.

Main points in reports given by 13 on the committee:
A total of $3,688 was raised since May toward the International Committee, the Regular World Service Fund and the special project at Thessalonika, Greece.

Only the special fund failed to reach its goal which was $5,000. The Y's Men's Club raised $2,467.50, spent $1,571.86 and retained a balance of nearly $900 during the past year.

Total enrollment at Camp Sheldon, Southend and Minnesota this summer was 192. This included a 100 per cent increase in enrollment in the Minnesota camp over last summer, 91 enrolled at Southend and 90 at Camp Sheldon.

The YMCA chapel on the second floor of the central YMCA will be completed in approximately 10 days.

Dr. Warren R. Baller, chairman of the City-Wide Boy's Committee told the group that during recent months there had been a diversification of activity, evidences of careful planning and a growth of membership.

It is the kind of result, he said, to look back on in five years to see the "tremendous strides" of the YMCA.

High Pole Artist Falls 137 Feet In Fatal Plunge

PORTSMOUTH, O. (AP)—Jacqueline Teeters, 40-year-old high pole artist, fell 137 feet to her death Monday while preparing for her act.

The accident was at the Scioto Breeze Outdoor Theater at Lucasville, north of Portsmouth.

Her manager, Ray Lewis, said he did not know what caused the accident. He said she had been staging her high pole act for 16 years.

Two Escapees Get Sentences In State Pen

Two escapees from the Nebraska Reformatory for Men were sentenced to the State Penitentiary by District Judge John L. Polk after both pleaded guilty Monday to charges of escape from a penal institution.

John O. Cave, 17, Omaha, was sentenced to serve three years. He escaped from the reformatory on Aug. 31.

Robert Evans, 27, Lincoln, was committed to the penitentiary for two years. He escaped on Nov. 3, 1948.

Cave, and another inmate, drove a pickup truck through the reformatory gate in making their escape. The two went to Norfolk, where Cave admitted making a series of break-ins into farmhouses in the area and from Norfolk to California. Cave was arrested by California authorities.

The Omaha boy was committed to the reformatory on July 8 for auto theft in Dawson County.

Evans, who also escaped with a reformatory inmate, made his way to Florida. He was arrested there and was found guilty of auto theft. Evans was sentenced to serve five years in the Florida State Penitentiary. He served two and one-half years and was then returned to Nebraska to answer the escape charge.

Omahan Saved After Buried Under Cave-In

OMAHA (AP)—A laborer was saved from suffocation when buried by a trench cave-in here Monday, but he suffered a broken arm and possible left leg injury.

A fellow workman was credited with probably saving the man's life by holding a plank in place against the cave-in.

Injured was Daniel John Hawkes, 19, an employee of the Metropolitan Utilities District. He was completely buried for a short time in the seven foot deep trench but the efforts of fellow workman Russell L. Watts, Carter Lake, kept more dirt from falling.

Eddie Cantor Hospitalized

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Eddie Cantor is in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital very ill. He collapsed after his television show Sunday night and Dr. Julius Kahn was called in.

Dr. Kahn immediately asked for a consultation. Eddie's show, which starred Dorothy Lamour, Eddie Fisher and the Will Mastin trio, with Sammy Davis Jr., was one of the best in his entire career and he worked very hard.

The latest report is that he is resting easily, but his doctors ordered him to remain absolutely quiet and no visitors are allowed.

Could Have Fired Them
The governor declared that "I have no grief" for supplementing the salaries of the eight officials with gifts "except that I had no other means" of "reducing their personal financial sacrifices."

Stevenson said that none of the eight "could be improperly influenced because I gave the money. I appointed them to their jobs and I could have fired them at any time."

He added that "if it is wrong to give money to people in appointive jobs, then it must be wrong to give money to people running for office."

The governor said "government cannot begin to match salaries with private industry, but should pay enough to avoid carelessness and even corruption."

The nominee said there are "four questions which seem to trouble people the most—the war in Korea, how serious is the Communist danger to this country, our prosperity in danger and how can we get the highest efficiency and integrity in this country."

Stevenson declared that "in its simplest form corruption is a question of individual morals," and said that he will "outline some ideas for a program of action" against corruption in a later campaign speech.

He said he would like to remind the people that the Democratic party is the party of "Sen. Kefauver, Sen. Douglas, Sen. Fulbright, Congressman Chelf and Congressman King—Men who have distinguished themselves in the fight against corruption in and out of government."

Stevenson also promised to devote a later speech to the threat of Communism. He declared: "The point is we've got to fight Communism, not just Communists."

He attacked Republicans for opposing what he said was "every democratic proposal to fight communism."

Attorney Questions
The question of Communists in government arose while Smith was being questioned by McCarthy's attorney, Warren Magee. Magee asked the general if he agreed with a statement of Benton at a previous deposition hearing that there were Communists in the State Department.

"I do," Smith replied.

"I believe there are Communists in my own organization."

Smith, a wartime associate of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, later served as ambassador to Moscow before becoming head of the CIA two years ago. He emphasized that his agency operates primarily overseas rather than in the U. S.

CIA was established in 1947 to co-ordinate all government intelligence and espionage work.

"They're so clever you've got to proceed on the assumption they can infiltrate you, and that's what we do," Smith said of the Communists.

Defends Marshall
Smith vigorously defended Gen. Marshall in his direct testimony at the hearing.

"Of all the men I've known, and in the last 10 or 15 years I've known most of the great men of the world, I know of none who excel and few who equal George Marshall for loyalty, honesty and integrity," Smith declared.

Aids Couldn't Be Improperly Influenced... Adlai 'False Leaders' Tag Put On Republicans

Stevenson Asserts GOP Campaign Appeals To Prejudices Of People And Is 'Unbearable'

CHICAGO (INS)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson Monday night called his Republican opponents "false leaders who beat drums to ward off evil spirits and talk of a tax-free paradise," but he declared "there is no easy way" in the fight against Communism.

The Democratic presidential nominee also assailed the Republican nominee, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, for "talking generalities." Stevenson promised to devote later campaign speeches to the subjects of corruption in government and Communism.

The governor attacked Republicans who he said try to tell the people that the real threat to the country is not Communism "but Harry Truman and even Adlai Stevenson."

He said such a campaign appeals to "prejudices" and is "unbearable."

Speaks From Theater
Stevenson spoke to the nation on a coast-to-coast television and radio hookup from an empty Chicago theater in which he delivered his speech from notes without a prepared text.

He said the Russians are "primitive but advanced"—in his hand he carried black bread but in his mind the secret of atomic energy.

Stevenson added that "there is only one answer" to the question: "How long can we keep up the fight?" That is, he said, "we can keep it up as long as we have to and we will."

Stevenson discussed again publicly his gifts of money to eight Illinois aids and his disclosure Sunday night of his income tax returns for the past 10 years.

Ike And Nixon Lambasted As Campaign Train Rolls West

Gen. Smith Fears: Reds In Security Agency

Central Intelligence Chief Suspects Entry By Some Communists

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Walter Bedell Smith said Monday he believes Communists have infiltrated every U. S. security organization, including the hush-hush Central Intelligence Agency which he has headed for the past two years.

Smith said he did not know what persons in the CIA are Communists.

"I wish I did," he added. "I do everything I can to detect them."

"I believe they are so adroit and adept they have infiltrated every security agency of the government."

The general made his statement while testifying at a deposition hearing in Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's two million dollar libel-slander suit against Sen. William Benton.

Benton summoned Smith to testify about a speech McCarthy made in the Senate last year attacking the record of Gen. George C. Marshall, the war-time Army chief of staff and later secretary of state.

In that speech, McCarthy said Marshall was "steeped in falsehood" and described him as "a mysterious, powerful figure" who sided with Russia in historic decisions which "lost the peace for America."

The question of Communists in government arose while Smith was being questioned by McCarthy's attorney, Warren Magee. Magee asked the general if he agreed with a statement of Benton at a previous deposition hearing that there were Communists in the State Department.

GOP Sen. Langer Gets Aboard In Dakota; Chief Executive Praises Stevenson As 'Most Promising Leader Of Generation'

ABOARD TRUMAN SPECIAL TRAIN (INS)—President Truman ripped into both Gen. Eisenhower and his running mate, Sen. Richard Nixon, Monday as his campaign special traveled across North Dakota.

The President assailed Eisenhower as a "front man for special interests" and declared that Sen. Nixon's voting record is stranger than that of his outside income.

Mr. Truman also directed much of his whistle-stop speech-making at lambasting the Republican record in Congress on farm price support legislation. He told cheering crowds:

"If you ask Ike to explain the GOP record you will just watch him squirm."

Before an estimated crowd of 10,000 persons at Minot, N. D., the President declared that Senator Nixon has voted seven times for what he called "crippling cuts" on farm price support programs.

Mr. Truman said that, as for Gen. Eisenhower, he has been in the Army so long, he doesn't know what is going on in the world or at home. The President added: "You ought to send him back to the Army where he belongs."

LOOKS "PRETTY GOOD"
He flayed the general for saying "the country is in terrible shape." Mr. Truman declared the nation looks to be in "pretty good shape to me."

The President opened his own whistle-stop campaign in behalf of the Democratic presidential nominee at Fargo, N. D., and charged that:

1. Eisenhower, in effect, is a captive of Republican bosses who the President declared have made the GOP nominee do their bidding.

2. The general is a sort of Charlie McCarthy "who is doing and saying exactly what they tell him."

3. The "special interest fellows who run the Republican party picked a man who has spent his whole life in the Army and doesn't know much about what they have been doing and what has been going on in the United States."

Langer On Board
At Larimore, N. D., Republican Sen. William Langer of North Dakota appeared on the rear platform of the train with his democratic senatorial opponent, Harold Morrison, and Mr. Truman.

The President told a crowd at Larimore:

"When the Republican candidate for the Senate introduces the Democratic candidate, it's a fine country. The United States is the only country in the world where this could happen."

Sen. Langer rode with President Truman in his private car across North Dakota.

The "Big Lie" Charged
At Lakota, N. D., the President charged that Eisenhower had fallen for the "big lie" methods of Republican leaders. He said:

"An uninformed man running for the big time shouldn't be in the White House."

He said the "big lie" was made by Sen. Williams of Delaware, whom Mr. Truman called "a good for nothing senator in the grain storage business" who claimed the Republicans had provided storage space for grain farmers in 1948.

The President said everyone should know this is the "big lie" because one of the big issues of the 1948 campaign was that the Republicans in Congress had voted against providing funds to enable the farmers of the Midwest and West to store their grain instead of selling it at sacrifice prices.

Earlier, during a rear-platform appearance at Breckenridge, Minn., the President said 1952 will be the most important election year the nation has ever faced and added:

"Adlai Stevenson is the brightest young man and most promising leader we have had in a generation."

The retiring chief executive also told the farm audience at Breckenridge that they should "kneel down and pray" for a Democratic victory in November.

10,000 at Fargo
He said: "I hope you will use your heads and your hearts and vote for your own interests, and for the interests of this great nation. It's a sure thing the Republicans don't care about the common, every-day man's interests."

A cheering crowd estimated by officials at 10,000 heard the President at Fargo. At one point, Mr. Truman said:

"I'm going to tear these Republicans apart before I get through with them."

The crowd laughed when he said the slogan on Eisenhower's campaign train that says, "Look ahead, neighbor," should instead read, "Look out, neighbor."

U.S. Ship Picks Up Survivors
NEW YORK (INS)—An American freighter Monday picked up 12 survivors from among 92 persons who were reported aboard a Portuguese fishing vessel which sank in mid-Atlantic just above the Azores last Tuesday.

The American freighter, S.S. Compass said it had rescued the 12 men from three lifeboats and that the survivors reported they had been in the water since Sept. 23 when the Portuguese motorship Joao Costa went down.

Those picked up by the Compass said that the others aboard the fishing vessel got away from the sinking craft, but so far they have not been sighted.

The rescue by the Compass was reported to Radiomarine Corp. of America.

The stricken 773-ton ship, bound from Newfoundland to Portugal, was reported by the rescued men to have gone down in the Atlantic at latitude 38.47 north and longitude 25.23 west.

The Compass reported to Radiomarine that it is remaining in the area where it picked up the 12 men and is continuing a search for additional survivors.

(The Hague radio reported, meanwhile, that it had picked up a message from the Compass asking other ships to aid in the search for further possible survivors because the Compass itself was being forced to abandon its own search due to an engine breakdown.)

Quarantine On Swine Sales Lifted

Quarantine regulations imposed because of the outbreak of vesicular exanthema in hogs on exhibitions and sales at the state and county fairs and Ak-Sar-Ben were lifted Monday in a regulation announced by Clay Wright, director of agriculture.

Simultaneously, Dr. E. P. Anderson, state veterinarian, instructed public markets, veterinarians and operators of sales barns that sales of feeder and stocker pigs will be permitted following health inspection by an authorized veterinarian.

Premises of purchasers will be quarantined for 21 days and the animals purchased must be kept separate from the other hogs on the premises.

Individual owners were given permission to hold purebred hog sales at auction markets under the supervision of an authorized veterinarian, who may waive issuance of the quarantine order on premises of purchasers.

The restriction on movement of swine was issued July 29 and with all afflicted animals slaughtered and premises disinfected the new orders will be effective Oct. 1.

Now that he is retiring, he added, he feels free to speak.

YMCA Report Reveals Huge Year's Growth

An increase of 300 adult YMCA members and a program "considerably expanded in volume and extent of activities" over the past year was reported at the semi-annual meeting of the YMCA Program Service Committee Monday night.

Main points in reports given by 13 on the committee:

A total of $3,688 was raised since May toward the International Committee, the Regular World Service Fund and the special project at Thessalonika, Greece.

Only the special fund failed to reach its goal which was $5,000. The Y's Men's Club raised $2,467.50, spent $1,571.86 and retained a balance of nearly $900 during the past year.

Total enrollment at Camp Sheldon, Southend and Minnesota this summer was 192. This included a 100 per cent increase in enrollment in the Minnesota camp over last summer, 91 enrolled at Southend and 90 at Camp Sheldon.

The YMCA chapel on the second floor of the central YMCA will be completed in approximately 10 days.

Dr. Warren R. Baller, chairman of the City-Wide Boy's Committee told the group that during recent months there had been a diversification of activity, evidences of careful planning and a growth of membership.

It is the kind of result, he said, to look back on in five years to see the "tremendous strides" of the YMCA.

Two Escapees Get Sentences In State Pen

Two escapees from the Nebraska Reformatory for Men were sentenced to the State Penitentiary by District Judge John L. Polk after both pleaded guilty Monday to charges of escape from a penal institution.

John O. Cave, 17, Omaha, was sentenced to serve three years. He escaped from the reformatory on Aug. 31.

Robert Evans, 27, Lincoln, was committed to the penitentiary for two years. He escaped on Nov. 3, 1948.

Cave, and another inmate, drove a pickup truck through the reformatory gate in making their escape. The two went to Norfolk, where Cave admitted making a series of break-ins into farmhouses in the area and from Norfolk to California. Cave was arrested by California authorities.

The Omaha boy was committed to the reformatory on July 8 for auto theft in Dawson County.

U.N. Troops Hold Fast To Capitol Hill

Heavy Artillery And Tanks Hurlled By Reds

SEOUL (AP)—Chinese Communists hurled tanks, troops and heavy artillery in eight concentrated attacks along a 10-mile sector of the Korean Central front Monday and seized one hill.

Allied defenders staved off six of the Red drives and stood firm on Capitol Hill, a major position. The U.S. Eighth Army said reports were incomplete on an eighth Red thrust.

The Chinese sent tanks and 1,600 infantrymen charging up the slopes of Capitol Hill and nearby Finger Ridge west of the Pukhan River before dawn.

Ride Out Storm

More than 5,000 rounds of artillery and mortars fell on the defenders.

The South Korean Capitol division, however, rode out the storm and held firm on Capitol Hill.

Three miles to the east, the Reds charged another height held by Korean Third Division troops and captured it after heavy fighting.

At least 120 MIGs swarmed across the Yalu River frontier of Manchuria Monday in an unusually strenuous Red effort to intercept Allied fighter-bombers attacking targets north of Yongyang, North Korean capital.

61 MIGs This Month
U.S. Sabre jets, equipped with new but still secret devices, shot down two MIGs and damaged two more, the Fifth Air Force announced.

This brought Allied air victories during September to 61 MIGs destroyed, seven probably destroyed and 55 damaged. This far exceeded the previous high of 44 Red planes downed last April.

Expanding Agencies' Budget Hearing To Be In November

Hearings for expanding agencies on their budget requests for the next biennium will be held some time in November, Tax Commissioner Philip K. Johnson, said Monday.

In the meantime, his staff is checking over the requests and conferring with expanding agencies where questions arise.

By the time the hearings start, it is expected that Paul Wagner, recently appointed budget supervisor, will be released from his temporary duty. He was recalled by Gov. Val Peterson to act in his former capacity as administrative assistant due to the leave of absence granted Mrs. Marie Krumwiede to work in the campaign headquarters of the GOP presidential nominee.

Out of State
Since the position of Mrs. Krumwiede as secretary to the governor at $3,600 a year was not filled when she was advanced to the $5,900 a year post as administrative assistant, the governor recalled Wagner when it became apparent Gov. Peterson was going to spend much of his time out of the state making political talks.

The staff of the tax commissioner has been going ahead with preliminary work on the budgets while Wagner is busy with duties in the governor's office.

Two of the three big spending agencies have not as yet completed their budget requests. The highway department has submitted a proposal to spend about $36,000,000 in the biennium beginning July 1. The amount is an estimate based on gasoline tax revenue.

State Engineer Harold Aitken pointed out that an increasingly large proportion of the budget must go for maintenance as the state highway system grows older while the traffic load grows heavier.

The University of Nebraska budget is expected this week and the Board of Control had nearly completed work in considering the requests from the 18 state institutions which will be submitted in a few days.

More Experience
The assistance department budget cannot be submitted immediately by the board pending obtaining more operating experience under laws passed by the special session of the legislature.

A special legislative council subcommittee on the budget spent two days last week considering reports that have been made on how funds appropriated by the last session have been expended.

Because of the difficulty in building realistic budgets more than two and a half years before the last expenditures another legislative committee is studying the advisability of annual appropriations. Report of the committee is expected in the next few weeks.

Osborn suggested that the Council give study to the thought of making all 15 minute zones metered. It is practically impossible, Osborn said, to police 15 minute zones without the use of parking meters.

Osborn also suggested the Council abolish its practice of limiting liquor license locations to an area within the police foot patrolled area. The boundary for such licenses, said Osborn, should be established by zones that can also be patrolled by cruiser car officers.

The Council took no action on the liquor boundary recommendation.

New Polio Cases Drop 50 Per Cent

But Nebraska Still Has Top Incidence

Although Nebraska leads the nation in polio incidence, the number of new cases hospitalized in Lincoln over the weekend dropped over 50 per cent, according to Morris Siegel, Lancaster County Polio Chapter chairman.

Only six new cases were reported while 13 were entered here the weekend before, he said. Two weeks ago 17 were admitted.

Included in the new list was only one Lancaster County resident, Harry Huston, 22, 4117 Touzalin, hospitalized at St. Elizabeth. His case brings the county polio toll for the year to 206.

Also admitted was Carolyn De-Frain, 20, Reynolds girl whose sister, Wanda, died earlier here from polio. She was admitted to Lincoln General.

Other weekend cases at Lincoln General:
Pamela Heitbrink, 18 months, Gresham.
Mrs. Darlene Schulte, 20, Tecumseh.
Donald Kohmetscher, 15, Falls City.
Orthopedic admitted one polio patient, Roylenn Hart, 16, of Fairbury.

According to National Polio Foundation figures, Siegel said the state led the nation in polio incidence with 114.6 cases per 100,000 population.

The next four states reporting the highest rates were in the Midwest area, the county chairman said. They are Iowa with 85.3 cases, Minnesota 73.7, South Dakota 64.9 and Kansas 58.5.

One emergency call for an iron lung was received Monday by the local chapter. A Beatrice hospital asked for the lung for standby use.

1,588 Total

Fifteen cases of polio were reported to the State Health Department Monday bringing the number for the first six days of the week to 81 and a total for the year to date to 1,588.

The tapering off of the weekly total at this time follows trends of previous years when in late September the decline in the number of cases began. The week of Sept. 13 reached the peak with 210 after the number of cases started increasing in July.

The previous record for an entire year was only 717 in 1948 less than half of those already reported this year.

New cases reported included two each in Lancaster and Platte counties and single cases in Buffalo, Burt, Cass, Clay, Jefferson, Madison, Nance, Perkins, Richardson, Saunders and York Counties.

Council's Hearing For Trailer Court Permit On Oct. 20

Oct. 20 has been set by the City Council as the date for hearing of the controversial request of Spartan Enterprises to permit operation of a trailer court at 1426 No. 12th.

The request asked that such an operation be permitted in residence zoning areas or that the site involved be changed to local business to allow the operation.

After a stormy hearing on the subject Thursday, the City Zoning Board of Appeals unanimously recommended the application be denied. More than 100 objections are on file against the request.

The Council ordered an ordinance prepared on the request of H. J. VanderGriend for a change in zoning to local business of property at 55th and 56th on the north side of South.

Laid over for a report next week on the setback now established along West O was the request of Florence McKeen for permit to operate a trailer court in the 1500 block on West O.

Ordinances were also ordered prepared on a change to residence C of property at 3127 P and to local business of property at 528 to 540 So. 10th.

Crosby Calls For 'Relentless' Fight Against Socialism

SCOTTSBLUFF (INS)—Robert B. Crosby, of North Platte, Republican candidate for governor, called Monday night for a "relentless" fight against "federal socialization of medicine, agriculture, insurance and like activities."

Continuing his campaigning with the state Republican caravan, Crosby told a Scottsbluff audience that the "socialistic trend in this country must be understood and firmly rebuffed."

Crosby asserted: "We must revive in peoples' minds and hearts a clear understanding of and faith in the American philosophy of government—the conviction that liberty depends on limiting the power of government."

"This does not mean that we cannot, through collective action, alleviate human distress. It does mean that welfare activities should be kept at the community level, and that we should avoid doing away with incentives toward self-help."

Jail Breakers Still At Large

ALBION, Neb. (AP)—The sheriff's office here reported that no trace has been found of two men who escaped from the county jail here nor of a car in which they are believed to have fled after their break.

The two men were Eldon Peters and Robert Kuhn. They were being held for trial in connection with a series of robberies when they made their escape.

A car belonging to Darwin Clark of Loretta was stolen here the same evening and Monday was still unrecovered, officers said.

Wesley Fleishman, who was being held in the jail for military authorities, refused to leave with the other two.

Opening Of Smith Street Provided By New Ordinance

An ordinance has been introduced to the City Council providing for the much disputed opening of Smith street from 35th to 37th.

The same ordinance was approved on third reading some weeks ago but an error in the legal description of property involved made it necessary to act on the opening a second time.

The opening was opposed by Attorneys Joe Carriotto and Arthur Perry in behalf of property owners involved. The attorneys argued that the street opening would deprive property owners of their land and force them to pay for improvements which are of no benefit to them.

Attorney Lloyd Marti, representing the Peterson Construction Company, stated that no property owners would be assessed for improvements unless they benefitted from them. Also, he said, the opening of Smith has been approved once by the City Council, the City Planning Commission and the City Engineering Department.

Health Education Program Mapped

How to make Lincoln and Lancaster County more conscious of good health practices and of growing needs in public health was discussed at a meeting of the health information section of the Public Relations committee of the Community Advisory Health Council at the YWCA.

Presiding at the meeting of newly appointed members was Mrs. W. H. Howey, chairman, who said that "our increasing population and the constant growth of medical knowledge is a challenge to the people to keep up with the times in the matter of community health."

Plans for the year's program were discussed and committee members gave assignments.

NOSE, THROAT,

and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."

50 At Osteopaths' State Meet

Banquet Is First Day's Highlight

"It is fortunate for the public that the various schools of medicine are showing indications of burying the hatchet so far as politics are concerned and devoting full time to the sick," Dr. C. Lloyd Petersen of Denver told nearly 50 members of the Nebraska Osteopathic Association Monday evening.

Dr. Petersen, speaking at a banquet concluding the first day's activities of the two-day annual convention, said that the value of osteopathy, which he called "manipulative therapy and physical medicine," is obtaining "general recognition and the best medical schools are employing it."

He said, however, that while "great strides are being made nationally, Nebraska unfortunately is an exception."

'Forget Politics'

He urged all doctors to forget "petty politics and differences," and devote all time to patients. "If every doctor in the country would devote all his time to the sick, the job still would not be done," he said.

Following an opening address by their president, G. S. Griffin of Seward, the state osteopaths listened to a series of technical lectures by Dr. C. Lloyd Petersen and Dr. Clyde Henry, both of Denver, Colo., during the morning and early afternoon.

Nominating and other committees were appointed at a late afternoon business meeting in preparation for the election of officers Tuesday morning and reports. The association's auxiliary met for luncheon at Miller and Paine's tea room with their president, Mrs. E. A. Purzer of Scottsbluff. Dr. Petersen and Dr. Henry will continue their lecture-discussions on Tuesday with a business session marking the end of the convention.

Snyder: No Hope For Cut In Taxes

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (INS) — Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said Monday "that at presently-projected defense costs for the next 12 to 18 months," he can see no basis for any hope of a tax cut.

Snyder said in an interview: "I speak from my present position and knowledge of the budget data that is being prepared for presentation to the President next January."

The Most Important Question Put to Jesus

There is deep meaning for us all in Jesus' answer to John's searching question (Luke 7), "Art thou he that should come? or look we for another?"

He gave his works as proof of the truth of his words: "Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached" (Luke 7).

In the same way Christian Science is presenting to the modern world unmistakable proof, through many authenticated cases of healing, that it is the demonstrable truth taught by Jesus.

It shows that spiritual understanding is natural to man. It helps him. It heals him, as Jesus proved and promised. Study of the Christian Science textbook

School Tax Ruling

County treasurers who have paid over to the county the statutory one per cent fee for collection of the blanket mill levy school taxes, after all demands for refunds have been audited, may claim from the county as much of the collection fees as may be necessary to satisfy full demands for refunds.

This opinion was given Monday by the attorney general's office to Ralph W. Norman, county attorney at Ord.

2 Wilsonville Children Die In Home Fire

WILSONVILLE, Neb. (AP)—Two small children died, apparently of asphyxiation, while taking their naps when fire broke out in the Mark Nixon home at Wilsonville, Saturday.

Fire Marshal Dave Andre said the fire apparently was caused by defective wiring. He said firemen arrived in time to extinguish the blaze but not in time to save the children.

The two victims were Linda, 5, and Jimmie, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. Nixon. Nixon was in McCook on business, and Mrs. Nixon had gone down town shopping, leaving older children to watch the smaller ones while they took their naps.

Besides the parents Linda and Jimmie are survived by six brothers and sisters. Funeral services will be Tuesday.

NATO Will Need More Than Year

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, NATO commander, said Monday it will take more than a year to build up enough military reserve to protect free Europe.

Ridgway told newsmen, "We do not and will not have in the next 12 months a large enough land reserve available to move from one end of the continent to another. We are still short on military protection."

He added that the disparity between military forces of the West and Russia is still great.

Shotgun-Shooting Husband To Face County Attorney

The shotgun-shooting husband who fired at but deliberately avoided hitting his wife after the two had had a family argument is scheduled to appear before the county attorney Tuesday morning.

The incident, which occurred Sunday evening, resulted in the arrest of the 26-year-old Lincolnite after he personally called the police. The shooting took place in the home.

The paneling siding on a door in which the wife stood was peppered with shotgun pellets. She did not prefer charges against her husband because of the incident.

"AT THE CROSSROADS OF LINCOLN"

Truth . . . 'Will O' The Wisp'

By J. E. LAWRENCE

I do not know what words I would employ were I taking leave of a sturdy young son who by his own deliberate choice is ticketed for combat duty in Korea. That is an experience which has fallen to many thousands of American fathers and mothers in recent years.

One of our favorite people, Mark Childs, writes of it today. His son, Prentice, tall, sturdy and fair of feature, a bonny lad, a Marine reservist, is going back into active service and at his own request is destined for combat service on the cold, fog-shrouded, unfriendly mountain peaks of an Oriental battleground. That boy has been a guest in my home. He and his father visited with us just about this time in 1948 when, after a visit with Gov. Warren and his family, the two stopped off in Lincoln to spend an all-too-short 48 hours with us.

The American Story

From the very earliest beginnings, the American story has been a throbbing epic. We like to believe that the finest is ahead. We do believe with all our hearts in the light of the last 40 years that the finest of the fine is still to unfold.

Mr. Childs writes of a recent appearance by Gov. Adlai Stevenson in Virginia, where far from the thunder of partisan politics, the tumult of a political campaign, the Democratic candidate for the presidency spoke to a graduating class of Marines of which his son, Adlai Stevenson III, is a member. It all came back to me with special force because a member of the staff of The Lincoln Star, a fine young man, earnest and zealous, also was a member of that graduating class of Marines after weeks of rigorous training, to whom Gov. Stevenson spoke. They were stern words delivered without thought of political effect. They were words which will take their place in what we sometimes call the eternal truths of our times.

If Not Korea, Then—?

Who fails to recognize the mistakes of the past? Who refuses to indulge in the hopes of the future? Who honestly believes that in this great adventure of ours, no matter how high we may hold our heads or how nobly we may command our hearts, all of the mistakes have been made and henceforth never again will a mistake be made?

We hear a lot about Korea in this campaign. Strangely, when Korea developed on a Sabbath morn unexpectedly, the American people in united spirit said to themselves with little dissent that Communism must be contained. And in reaching that decision, a decision to join hands with the United Nations to contain Communism, most people reasoned to themselves, hating war as the American people do, that if we ignored the grim, brutal march of Communism in the Korean theater, we could be certain that the Russian bear in all its hellish design for world aggression would strike at some other distant Asiatic front. Gov. Stevenson spoke of this, and Mark Childs writes of it, not in partisan or political spirit but to recall people to one of the basic truths which we must accept.

Those Ignorant Masses

There were two developments in the news in Monday morning's Star which caught the attention of this editor. Those developments, small in themselves, perhaps insignificant, nevertheless could serve to recall people, blinded by the passions of the hour, to some of the simple truths. Nebraska Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons was back from the Orient where he had been sent by the American State Department. Now, Mr. Simmons is not a New Dealer, not a Democrat, in the role he occupies on the bench; and in his mission to the Orient, not a partisan. He said something, however, that makes more sense than millions of words which form a part of the present high controversy of a presidential campaign. He spoke of the crowded masses of the Orient, starving not for food but for education.

Countries long colonial possessions, Justice Simmons reported, do not have a sufficient number of educated men and women to provide leadership. And then he added:

"With no tradition of self-government, they can't go to our form of government in one fell swoop. In one country of 80 million people (in 1941, there were but 240 high school graduates.)

It is asking too much of the American people, a people enjoying universal education in a large sense, to understand the meaning of that frightful confession of illiteracy. It is expecting too much of them to compute it in terms of falling easy victims to the insidious propaganda to which they have been subjected by Russia.

One Of The Great Mistakes

One of the greatest mistakes which we have made and which we are now making in intensified form in the heat of a presidential campaign is to underestimate the effect of physical undernourishment or starvation and widespread ignorance among Asia's frightening masses.

We will pay for it, pay through the nose, if men persist in simplifying and misrepresenting a great region which is a part of this world and which now for the first time in its old weary history is on the march. Gen. Eisenhower before he became a candidate wrote a record that is a part of the news columns of the American press. Our concern, he said, was Europe, not Asia. But let that pass. Let political discussion subside. Here is a hunger among densely packed masses, a hunger physical and mental, long ignored and now in rebellion.

Our greatest danger is to dismiss it cynically and to charge that mistakes in statesmanship have been responsible for the loss of Asia. Only a miracle of major proportions could have resulted in anything other than what has taken place. It is not a pleasant path to sleep, but before people close their eyes, let them think if only for a few brief minutes of the tragedy of uneducated masses. We have had some of it in this country and invariably it has been our most tragic chapters.

Saving A Little Money

There was another small story tucked away in the news. Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama in a panel discussion Sunday told his audience that he never had had any kind of a fund (answering a question about the Nixon episode) and each year that he has served in Congress he has managed to save a little bit of money.

It is heart-warming to read of frugal habits. That is the essence of the system of capitalism. It is the foundation of economic human freedom. There is nothing finer in this life than a prudent man and wife, planning, saving a few dollars year by year. One cannot keep up with the Joneses if one lacks the income of the Joneses. But where there is purpose, one can at the end of each year take pride in having added to one's savings. And that has been tough for all of us, but tough as it is through sacrifice and thought, that trait of thrift through which people save is one of the strong threads of the American story.

Challenge To Science

Nebraska appeared to be emerging from its heaviest battle against polio. The final figures for the nation for this year of 1952 will not be available for several weeks but it appeared that the incidence of polio has been heavier in Nebraska on the basis of population than in any other sister commonwealth.

There is small comfort for hundreds of families who have suffered from the disease in recent months, but the battle against polio is going ahead steadily in the laboratories. The battle is costly, long drawn out, and one of the handicaps under which it has been conducted is the lack of adequate funds for research. The National Foundation has devoted every penny it could scrimp and save in the face of the heavy demands made upon it in the last four years to provide treatment and hospitalization for polio victims unable to meet medical expenses.

Science while still unsuccessful does not admit defeat in its battle against polio. It will win in time. All of us perhaps can make our contribution by remembering the work of the foundation and the urgency of finding a preventative for polio, at the time the foundation appeals for funds.

Stevenson's Income Tax Report

There were two developments over the week-end which may have a great effect upon American politics for years to come.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson handed newsmen photostatic copies of his individual income tax reports for the last 10 years. That was his undramaticized answer to criticism that he had utilized funds contributed by the people of Illinois to supplement the inadequate pay of some of the key men in his administration of the affairs of Illinois state government. The governor might well have concealed his hurt inflicted by some of the streaming headlines which appeared in the papers in connection with the announcement of the fund collected by a "Stevenson For Governor" committee four years ago in 1948. It totaled $172,000. It was the unspent balance chiefly used to compensate underpaid employees, used for the purpose of paying men who had made a financial sacrifice to serve in a public post.

That may or may not be different from the trust fund of Sen. Nixon—people will have to make up their own minds about that.

But Sen. Morse, Oregon Republican, more than a year ago introduced a bill in Congress to compel its members to make public the sources of their income. That bill never got any place, not even out of the committee. Now Gov. Stevenson has given his people the facts about his personal income throughout the last 10 years. It is an example that may take root. There is much to commend it.

The same paper told that Republican National Chairman Arthur Summerfield was appealing for a house-to-house canvass to raise funds for the campaign. The reports of the two national committees covering the period up to September 1, disclosed that the Republicans had raised more than two dollars for every one collected by the Democrats. But campaigns are costly, Mr. Summerfield reports, what with television and radio and whatnot. We think the present campaign will parallel the national conventions—the costliest in American history.

What does the public propose to do about that?

Nixon Angered By Ike Before Harmony Talk

WASHINGTON — The Eisenhower-Nixon talk was a healthy thing from the point of view of Republican harmony, because signs of bad blood had been developing between the two top GOP running-mates.

Newspapermen covering the Nixon trip either ignored it or played the story down. However, Eisenhower for even entertaining the thought that he be dropped from the ticket. That was why Nixon deliberately ignored the general's telegram requesting him to see him "at once."

Instead, the potential next vice president of the United States flew not to the Eisenhower train but to Missoula, Mont. And when newsmen queried the Nixon entourage in Los Angeles as to why he wasn't going to see Ike immediately, Nixon's press secretary, James Bassett, bluntly replied: "We are going to Montana."

Nixon's strategy was first to show that he was not a boy candidate to be pushed around; second, to let public sentiment build up in favor of keeping him on the ticket.

Furthermore, it was no accident that Nixon asked his listeners to send telegrams to the Republican National Committee, not to the general. He knew its members, most of them professionals, would be much more sympathetic. Also Nixon's staff made it all too clear to the newspapermen around them that they bitterly resented the general's telegram from Cleveland that "my personal decision will be based on a personal conclusion."

Press Secretary Bassett has been one of the most zealous Nixon aides, and was one of those who virtually took the telephone away from his chief in Portland, Ore., to tell Sen. Seaton of Nebraska aboard the Eisenhower train that Ike advisers should get some backbone. This was why Bassett was brought into the picture when the two candidates finally met at Wheeling.

Originally it was arranged for Eisenhower and Nixon to meet in rooms 782 and 784 in Wheeling's McClure Hotel. Mrs. Eisenhower and her elderly mother, Mrs. Doud, were down the hall in rooms 780-792, while the security guard was in room 780 next to the general. However, when the two candidates learned of the crowds outside the hotel, the two men went to the special train instead.

There they talked for an hour. They did not, however, discuss the $18,000 expense fund which had set the politics of the nation almost on its ear. Not a word was said about it.

Brave And True Words For Marine Graduates

WASHINGTON—If you happen to notice in the air these days a sort of gray fog, it can be attributed only in part to the bonfires that burn every fall. Part of it can be put down to campaign oratory.

It is a sort of by-product of a presidential year; the sleazy, gray, smelly fumes that spew out of the exhaust of the campaign motor. It tends, this rich mixture of threat and promise, to become somewhat oppressive. About this time, nearly midway through what has some resemblance to an old-fashioned Iowa haw-calling contest, we tell ourselves that at least we are in the home stretch. We say it hopefully.

But even in the midst of this contest sometimes some true words are spoken, even brave words. Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the

It is in part, of course, because he is a Marine, sharing the pride and spirit of that great institution. But part of it is something as direct and uncomplicated as patriotism. You may say that this has an old-fashioned sound. Why, nobody would ask for Korea! Stick his neck out? Take the rap when everybody here at home is living off the fat of the land?

That is the fact, nevertheless, even though the young man says little or nothing about his views unless he is pressed as to why and wherefore. You would never catch him talking about the dangers to America's homes and hearthfires. But you sense that he knows the danger is there even though it is five or six thousand miles away.

If he listened, which he doesn't to some of the cheap words of slick-talking politicians, he would hear that this danger could be just whisked away by replacing one set of men in office with another set. He could hear that it was nothing more than the blunders, or worse, of a few men in Washington that brought on the danger; or even that the danger is non-existent, a political bogey.

Because we are so devoted to this young man, sharing in some small degree his pride, we welcomed these honest words from Stevenson:

"Certainly there have been failures and mistakes. The course of human history is a record, in tragic part, of things done which should not have been done, things not done which should have been done. Our own history is like the rest. But of one thing I, for myself, am certain and I think you also can be certain.

"It is not to make good the errors of the past that you are here. But to make good the promise of the future. The fighting in which we are now engaged in Korea is fighting undertaken in the name of the common collective security of the great majority of the nations of the world against the brutal aggressiveness of one or more of them. It is fighting which might conceivably have been avoided on that particular battlefield had we acted otherwise than we did—though, as to that, no man can surely say. But it is fighting which must inevitably have been faced somewhere in the world, so long as the Soviet Union pressed its purpose to subjugate the free peoples of the earth and so long as the United States and the free peoples of the earth retained their purpose to resist."

Those are stern words. They have a strange sound in this campaign season. They are in striking contrast to other kinds of campaigning intended to sell the best, the finest, the purest political soap, but that soap and the wicked world will be washed clean, the dangers just wiped away, the beautiful sparkle never to be dimmed again.

Garden Glances With The Moon

At the moment the increasing moon is in the fixed, airy and barren sign, Aquarius, and will today at 12:32 enter the flexed, watery and fruitful sign, Pisces.

Thursday afternoon at 1:34 it will enter the movable, fiery and exceedingly barren sign, Aries. Friday morning at 6:15, the third lunar quarter will begin and for the next two weeks the moon will be on the wane, and time again it is to get to bulb-planting for next spring's blooms, particularly after 1:00 p.m. Saturday when the moon will enter the fixed, earthy and semi-fruitful sign, Taurus, completing its movement through this semi-fruitful phase at 7:17 Monday night.

We do need rain! While I think of it, all you people who have city water should really water your lawns and gardens. I'm amazed that so many are neglecting to do this very necessary thing. Naturally it will rain some day, but in the meantime you are allowing your lawns, shrubs and trees to become dangerously dry. A sudden freeze would do them irreparable damage.

Goldenrod, which the Romans treasured, they called "Solidago" or "make whole" plant because of its healing powers. Elizabethan England also valued it and imported quantities to be sold in powdered form in London markets. Here in twentieth century America, chemists have also discovered some virtues in the plant. From 150 to 200 pounds of bloom of sweet-scented goldenrod, they extract three to five pounds of oil which resembles oil of anise, and use it to flavor chewing gum and candy. There are 85 known species of goldenrod in North America and some one or more is to be found growing in every state of the Union. Small wonder it is our national flower.

Easter lilies that survived a Nebraska winter . . .

In today's picture are Easter lilies that first bloomed in a pot indoors in 1950. Mrs. Wells of 1414 South Ninth Street later that year put them out in her garden when the ground grew warm, probably late in May. That autumn before a hard freeze, she mulched them heavily with soil and covered them completely with a corrugated box. Last year they bloomed in the summer and she gave them the same winter care. This year they bloomed profusely and we got a picture for you. If you planted your gift Easter lily out in the garden last spring why don't you follow Mrs. Wells' example?

Crosby Suggestion

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I find much talk among active citizens approving of the suggestion by Candidate Robert Crosby calling for a partisan state legislature. He suggests a two-party legislature would help "find out what the people think" about major issues by having the party legislators take opposite stands on the issue. With a partisan legislature, the party in control could and would be held responsible for any bad legislation enacted.

It is evident, also, that any movement for a sales tax would be defeated if submitted for decision to the voters who will have to carry any additional tax burden.

Let the people decide this issue in the way our people have always made clear their wishes.

Customs men are noted for their rigid regard for the rules, but over in London the regulations were carried to a new extreme. It seems a man went from Amsterdam to London via plane. He carried with him a piece of raw steak. Customs officials informed him he couldn't bring raw meat into the country. So the man sent the steak back to the Amsterdam airport, where it was roasted and returned on the next flight. This time the customs men allowed the meat to pass.

Any way it is sliced, it is still steak. But not at the port of entry, obviously.

Eisenhower Promises To Make Public His Personal Finances

Stevenson Challenge Accepted

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower Monday accepted Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's challenge to bare his personal financial position.

Just when the Republican presidential nominee will do so was not announced.

His headquarters said it was unlikely the statement would be ready before he left for Columbia, S. C., Tuesday on the first leg of an 8,000-mile campaign tour that will take him to the West Coast.

Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, Sunday reported that his own gross income for the past 10 years totalled $500,046 and that he paid federal taxes of $211,890 on it.

Puts It Up to Ike
He had put it up to Eisenhower to match his action by declaring all candidates for high office should disclose their personal financial condition dating back over a period of years.

James G. Hagerty, the general's press secretary, said he did not know details of what form Eisenhower's report would take.

Newsmen had asked whether it would be a general statement of his financial position or whether it would include a breakdown of his income and tax payments year by year, as Stevenson's report did. Hagerty said in a statement:

"Since the general has not previously been in politics and since he has not had a political fund, and does not now have such a fund, he has given little attention to the stories in the papers in the last few days regarding the relationship of such funds to income tax returns."

Statement Promised
"Since there now seems to be a public interest in his financial situation, he will get his records together and I am sure he will issue a statement later on."

Stevenson's offer to reveal his own finances and the challenge to Eisenhower to follow suit had the effect of directing attention to the income and taxes on Eisenhower's book, "Crusade in Europe."

Newspapers estimated after it was published in 1948 that the book, magazine and other rights would bring between $500,000 and one million dollars.

The Internal Revenue Bureau reported on June 1, 1948, that regulations applying to amateur writers would determine the general's tax liability. Bureau attorneys said he would be permitted to pay a 25 per cent capital gains tax—a much lower rate than required for professional writers.

Law Amended
A professional writer would pay a tax of about 80 per cent, or $400,000, on a $500,000 transaction.

The law was amended in 1950 so as not to include copyrights, literary compositions and similar properties as capital assets.

REPUBLICANS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Richard Nixon's press secretary said Monday the Republican vice presidential candidate does not plan to make public his income tax returns or further details of his finances.

Nixon's Report
It was Nixon's own radio-TV broadcast of his finances—which did not include details of his income tax returns—that evidently prompted Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson to tell Sunday night how much he has earned and how much federal income taxes he has paid in the past 10 years.

Stevenson's running mate, Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama, said he would make a similar report.

And Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, promised Monday to make public a full report on his own financial affairs.

Stevenson Invites Ike To Visit Him At The Governor's Mansion

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, has invited the Republican presidential nominee and Mrs. Eisenhower to lunch with him Thursday at the governor's mansion here.

But Eisenhower declined the unprecedented invitation, Stevenson told newsmen here just before boarding a plane for Chicago.

Stevenson said he telegraphed the invitation after learning that Eisenhower would be in Springfield Thursday. If the invitation to lunch could not be accepted, the telegram said, could the Eisenhowers visit the governor's mansion at any other time.

Eisenhower replied with thanks, but said he and Mrs. Eisenhower would be in Springfield too short a time to accept.

KNOW THE FACTS ABOUT BUYING MEATS FOR FREEZER STORAGE

Many people these days are asking themselves, "Can I cut my meat bill by buying meats in bulk quantities for storage in my home freezer or locker?" They have read or heard about special "food plans" which offer "wholesale" cuts of meat at what seems to be a very low price per pound when compared with the market price of steak or fine roast.

Because the cost of meat is very important to every family, we feel that we owe it to our customers and friends to present the facts about buying meats in bulk quantities.

Perhaps the clearest way to present this information is in the form of a specific example. Let's suppose, for instance, that you are considering the purchase of a side of beef. You have learned that you can buy this beef at 62c per pound. This appears to be a most attractive price, with steak selling at more than a dollar a pound.

But a side of beef is not all steak meat. Far from it! In fact, much of the meat on a half beef is of the kind often referred to as "cheaper" cuts. In addition, about 44 pounds of your purchase will be a complete loss to you in trimmings of fat, bone, etc.

You should know:

FACT: When you buy a 271 pound side of beef, you receive approximately 227 pounds of useable beef cuts. Trimming-loss to you (fat, bones and waste) about 44 pounds.

FACT: If you pay 62c per pound for the 271 pound side of beef your gross cost is $168.02.*

FACT: At today's prices at Safeway, you can buy the 227 pounds of beef—same amount of each useable cut that you would get in a full side of beef—for $162.21 or a saving of $5.81. (See actual breakdown below.)

FACT: At Safeway, you can buy as little or as much of each cut as you want at a time. There's no need to buy and maintain an expensive freezer nor to rent locker space to enjoy the saving you get at Safeway.

*Don't forget too, that you must add to the quoted "wholesale" price, any service charges made for cutting, trimming, packing and freezing.

BEEF CHART

Total Useable Beef Cuts 226.6 lbs.
Total Fat, Bone & Waste 44.4 lbs.
Total Side of Beef 271.0 lbs.
Total Price of Useable Beef Cuts at Safeway $162.21

You can see from the figures quoted above that you actually pay about the same for cuts you get from a side of beef bought at "wholesale" as for equivalent cuts bought individually at Safeway's regular prices. Note, too, that many of the cuts you get when you buy a side of beef are cuts not used by the average homemaker. For example, when you buy a 271 pound side of beef, you get approximately 7½ pounds of shank, ¾ pound of beef kidney, and 23 pounds of plate and brisket.

A fact which is often overlooked is that the difference between what the retailer pays for meat at wholesale and what he sells it for at retail is small. Many cuts are actually sold at a lower price per pound than the retailer pays for the side of beef. Also, many parts of a side of beef which are a total loss to the individual (fat, bone, etc.) can be disposed of by the retailer through commercial channels. The amount he realizes on these parts can be reflected in lower prices on remaining retail cuts.

We sincerely believe that many shoppers are being misled by the claimed meat savings available to them through various food plans. Safeway offers you every day a complete assortment of top quality meats at prices that are as low as those you realize from buying meats in bulk quantities. And in shopping for meats at Safeway you are able to pick and choose exactly the cuts you want to serve from day to day. You're never faced with the problem of using up portions of meat which have little or no appeal for your family.

once again, you'll really taste your cigarette—the good, clean taste of fine, mild tobacco. Your food will taste better, too! And you'll know you've made a wise change... for your own good.

3 YOU'LL FEEL BETTER BECAUSE you'll be smoking the one cigarette with a difference in manufacture... an important difference that avoids a common cause of cigarette irritation.

4 YOU'LL FEEL BETTER BECAUSE,
day after day, you'll be smoking the cigarette recommended by eminent nose and throat specialists to patients who smoke... the ONE cigarette proved definitely milder than any other leading brand.*

Teachers College Freshmen Enrollment Over Average

Kearney Is Leading In Attendance

Larger than average freshman enrollment was reported by the four state teachers colleges which slightly more than offset a drop in enrollment in the advanced students, presidents of the colleges reported to the state normal board.

Reasons for students quitting college in the advanced classes included the draft, marriage by women students and high pay available in private industry for members of both sexes.

Veterans began entering school in increasing numbers with Kearney reporting more women veterans than men enrolling. They have 45 women veterans and only 25 men. Chadron had 21 men and only one woman while at Wayne the 29 veterans enrolled were all men. Peru had one woman and 11 men.

Kearney led the four colleges in size with 615 enrolled as compared with 605 at Wayne. Kearney had 325 men and 290 women while Wayne had only 297 men to 308 women. For the first time in a number of years the male enrollment fell below the women.

Chadron reported 198 men and 123 women for a total of 321 while Peru had 175 men and 98 women for a 273 total.

Junior Grain Show, Judging Meet Is Nov. 7

HASTINGS, Neb. — The third annual Nebraska Junior Grain Show and Judging Contest will be held here Nov. 7 in connection with the Nebraska Wheat Show, according to J. C. "Chet" Swinbank, extension agronomist at the College of Agriculture.

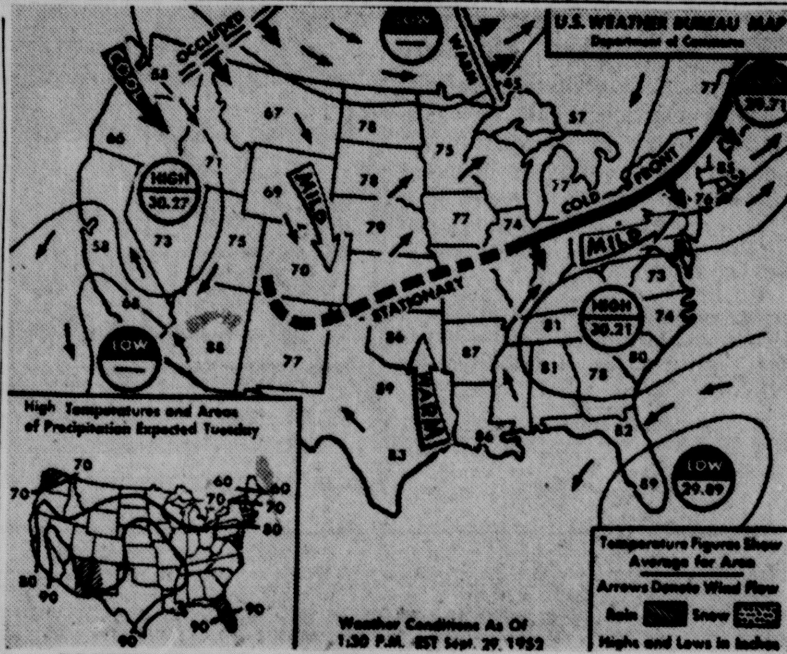

Swinbank said that any active 4-H Club or FFA member, carrying a crops project during the current year is eligible to exhibit in the Nebraska Junior Grain Show.

There will be classes in winter wheat, spring wheat, barley, rye and oats. A one-quart sample of the 1952 crop will constitute an entry. Each exhibit in the show must be certified by the county extension agent or the vocational agriculture instructor.

Entry blanks for the grain show are available from county extension agents or vocational agriculture instructors.

Any 4-H club member or FFA student is eligible to compete in the Junior Grain Judging contest. Teams from counties or schools may also be entered, with three members on each team.

Swinbank said that there will be four classes in the contest, which may include samples of wheat, oats, or barley.

CONTINUED FAIR—Continued fair and warm weather is expected over most of the nation Tuesday. Scattered showers will occur in Florida, Arizona and parts of New Mexico, Idaho and Washington. Aside from cooler weather in the northeast quadrant and a warmer trend in the upper Mississippi Valley, little temperature change will be noted. (AP Wirephoto Monday Night.)

Dr. E. Stanley Jones Denies Connection With Subversives

OMAHA (AP)—A meeting at which Dr. E. Stanley Jones, evangelist and missionary to India, was the speaker had an unscheduled interruption here.

A youthful Bible student walked up front and mounted the platform near the end of the service to ask Dr. Jones if he belonged to the American League for Peace and Democracy, which the student said has been cited as subversive. Dr. Jones denied any connection with the organization.

Dr. Jones told the audience of about 1,500 at Tech High auditorium that the report seems to be based on an allegation that he helped sponsor a meeting of the league in 1939. He said he had no recollection of such an incident and termed untrue any report that he belonged to the league.

Seeks Federation Of Churches—The Bible student, James Wright, Omaha, said he was a member of a church in Colorado Springs, Colo., which two years ago led a fight to cancel a two-week speaking engagement of Dr. Jones. The effort cut the speaking engagement to one week, Wright said.

Dr. Jones appearance here was part of his campaign for a federation of churches in this country. A show of hands was called for to determine audience reaction to the "United Church of America" proposal. Dr. Jones estimated 25 persons voted against it. He said the most registering opposition at any previous meeting was 11.

The remainder of the 1,500 attending either indicated approval of the proposed federation, or abstained from indicating.

MRS. FLORENCE JENSEN—FILLE—Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Florence Jensen, 62, who died in a Colorado Springs hospital. Carmichael of Filley; two brothers and two grandchildren.

Kearney Dorm Plans Granted Tentative Okay

Tentative approval on the basis of parliamentary plans submitted by the architect was given by the state normal board for a three-story brick dormitory for women at Kearney State Teachers College to cost about $448,800, Secretary E. Albin Larson said Monday.

The building will have 60 rooms to house 120 women together with lounges and matron's apartment, he said. The building will be 175 feet long with a 91 foot "L" and 44 feet wide.

He said the board also unanimously rejected a proposal for relocation of a two-lane divided highway on U.S. 30 that would cross a corner of the campus up to 175 feet of one of the present buildings. The highway at present is about 335 feet from the building.

Larson said the board's action was based on the increased safety hazard to students and the fact that the increased traffic noise would disturb students in classes and that the closeness of heavy traffic might jar delicate laboratory equipment used by science classes.

The highway improvement was planned by a former city council with an understanding that federal aid could only be obtained if two sharp corners near the campus were eliminated through acquisition of more land.

The improvement to speed up movement of traffic through the

Interest In Sweet Clover Rises With Hay Crop Shortage

The hay shortage and the high prices have increased interest in sweet clover hay, according to J. D. Furrer, assistant extension agronomist at the University of Nebraska.

Furrer says that although sweet clover is not in common use as a hay crop, well-cured first-year sweet clover hay has a feeding value which nearly equals that of alfalfa hay.

The agronomist said that cutting of sweet clover should be delayed until the first part of October. By delaying the harvest until then the plant is given a chance to form buds under ground on the root crown, enables the plant to store a normal amount of root reserves, and gives maximum first-year hay yields.

Four or more inches of stubble should be left, he said. By leaving this much stubble, injury, due to the lack of vegetable cover during the winter months, is reduced, and more snow is caught to form a protective covering.

city is part of a larger program that would include a "seeding" of mile of pavement west of the city.

The board also let contracts for coal for heating the teachers colleges at Peru and Chadron. Cost at Peru will be $17,500 on a bid of $7.80 a ton for 2,250 tons delivered by Mackie-Clemens Fuel Co., Kansas City.

Chadron cost will be $14,580 for 2,000 tons at $7.29 delivered by the Sheridan-Wyoming Coal Co.

Two Omahans Arrested In Crete Picket Line Incident

Union And Company To Hold Meet

CRETE, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special) — An outbreak of violence Monday in the three-week-old strike at the Crete Mills here resulted in the arrest of a union representative and a former Omaha policeman.

The arrested pair were identified by County Attorney Joseph Ach as Harold Tevis, a district representative of the AFL American Federation of Grain Millers, and his brother-in-law, Carmen Bonacci, the ex-policeman.

The men pleaded not guilty in Safford County Court to charges of assault and battery and were released at mid-afternoon on bonds of $250 each after spending several hours in jail at Wilber. Trial date has been set for October 8, the county attorney said.

The men were charged specifically with an assault on Albert L. Johnson Jr., secretary of the Crete Mills, Monday morning.

Woman Injured
Johnson said he was set upon as he went to the aid of a non-union worker who was unable to cross the picket line. Earlier Johnson said he had taken movies of the beginning of the incident, but was not taking pictures at the time he was attacked.

County Sheriff John Tesar identified one of the injured in the assault as Mrs. Vern Kennel, who was bringing her husband to work. Mrs. Kennel required medical attention.

Bonacci and Tevis were arrested near Linoma Beach, east of Ashland, after a call went out via the Safety Patrol radio to halt their car. The sheriff said he still is looking for "two or three more Omahans" in connection with the fistfuffs, first violence reported since the first day of the strike when a disturbance also occurred.

At the union's request, officials of both the union and the company will meet at 10 a.m. Wednesday for their first meeting since the strike began.

'Marched Back Home'
B. L. Johnson, president of the mills, said he arrived after the incident was over. The fistfuffs began at 7 a.m., just as the mills opened for the day.

Sheriff Tesar said one man, trying to report for work, was marched back home.

The Crete Mills plant has been virtually inoperative since the strike began as the result of a breakdown of negotiations for a new contract. Some feed has been milled elsewhere to the company's formula and shipped here in carlots for distribution, the company president said.

Omaha Woman Loses $10,000 Gypsum Official Plans To Attend Citation Ceremony

OMAHA (INS)—A 74-year-old Omaha widow was fleeced of $10,000 in downtown Omaha Monday in the old "pigeon drop" swindle.

Detective Inspector Harry Green said Mrs. Johanna Stibolt was looking in a store window at 16th and Farnam Streets when she was approached by a middle-aged woman who identified herself as a "Mrs. Schultz." The woman told Mrs. Stibolt she had just received a $10,000 settlement for injuries her little girl suffered in a school bus accident and did "not know what to do with it."

"Mrs. Schultz" also told of a young woman who had found a purse containing $600 and had taken it to her "boss" to ask him what to do with the money.

The younger woman, who identified herself as "Martha Brown," then approached "Mrs. Schultz" and Mrs. Stibolt and said her boss had found a total of $6,000 and some gambling tickets in compartments of the purse. The young confidence woman told the pair her boss had suggested that since the money was owned by a gambler it should not be returned to him.

$10,000 'Faith Money'

The young woman left for her supposed office in the Farnam Building and returned a few minutes later to report that her boss had recommended that Mrs. Stibolt and "Mrs. Schultz" each put up $10,000 in "faith money" and divide the $6,000 with "Miss Brown."

"Mrs. Schultz" presumably turned over the money she collected in the accident settlement and Mrs. Stibolt withdrew $10,000 from her account in the First National Bank. "Miss Brown" took the money to her office and told Mrs. Stibolt she could come to the office shortly afterward and collect her $10,000 in "faith money" plus $2,000 from the "gambler's purse."

Mrs. Stibolt followed instructions but when she arrived at the Farnam Building, she was unable to find a "Martha Brown" and realized she had been swindled.

"Mrs. Schlutz" was described as about 40 years old, wearing glasses with shell rims above the lenses, having dark brown or red hair and no upper front teeth. "Miss Brown" was between 25 and 30 years old, about five feet tall, with dark brown curly hair, brown eyes and an unclear complexion.

Inspector Green said a similar swindle involving two women of about the same descriptions occurred recently in Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Week Began Well

THE VERY last day of September arrived with interesting news—news of guests—of homecomers, and fun affairs in the way of parties—That reminds us—just in case we don't have time tomorrow we really should extend a greeting to October—And now down to facts—no fiction this ayem—

WE LIKE To talk about parties because they always sound so festive—For instance John Ames was an exceedingly successful host on Sunday evening when he entertained a group of guests as a surprise birthday courtesy to Mrs. Ames. Among the 12 guests who dined at the Lincoln Country club, after which there was an informal evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ames, were Mr. and Mrs. John Koffend, Mrs. Lane Axell and Mr. and Mrs. George Alex Young Jr., of Omaha.

SPEAKING Of parties and Omaha guests—Mr. and Mrs. Ross P. Curtice are having an after-the-game party at their home Saturday evening—Twenty guests have been invited for the cocktail supper, and coming from Omaha to attend the affair will be Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Allgaier, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Koenig and Mrs. Charles Carper. Other out of town guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wake of Seward.

THEN WE learned that Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McMahon have house guests—Mrs. McMahon's sister, Mrs. C. E. Rasette of North Hollywood, Calif., who arrived last mid-week, and who leaves again next Sunday.

Although her stay in Lincoln is brief, Mrs. Rasette is being kept on the hop, skip and jump with numerous informal affairs—Yesterday she was the incentive for the luncheon for which Mrs. J. P. Eberhart was hostess at her home, and on Friday Mrs. Rasette will again be an honoree when Mrs. Hugh Thorne entertains at luncheon at her home.

Last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. McMahon entertained at a family dinner in courtesy to their guest. Members of the family attending included: Mr. and Mrs. Perly Poore, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Poore and daughter, Ruby, of Beaconsfield, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Poore, Marge and Marleta, of Grand River, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Poore, Grand Island; Mr. and Mrs. Cash Baird, Central City; Mr. and Mrs. Glen McMahon and Melinda, Omaha; and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. McMahon, Kathleen, Mollie and Richard Jr., of Lincoln.

JUST HEARD that Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hillier returned home Sunday evening from New York City where Dr. Hillier attended a meeting of the American College of Surgeons and where—Mrs. Hillier, as you well can imagine, did the shopping districts.

TOMORROW IS the day that Dr. and Mrs. John A. Brown return from Colorado where they have been spending the last few days. Dr. and Mrs. Brown went to Colorado from North Platte where Dr. Brown, president of the Nebraska Academy of General Practitioners, attended a medical meeting.

UNDERSTAND That Miss Louise Nelson of Vallejo, Cal., who is to be a bridesmaid at the wedding of Miss Corrine Clore and William Misko, arrived in Lincoln the past weekend, and naturally, will remain here until after the wedding on Friday evening.

HEARD, TOO, that Robert Aldrich arrived Monday evening from New York City to spend a few weeks with his mother, Mrs. Bess Streeter Aldrich.

OFF TO CHICAGO today will go Mr. and Mrs. Robert Latsch who plan to be away about ten days. While in Chicago Mr. and Mrs. Latsch will attend all of the festivities attendant to the National Stationers' association meeting.

INCLUDED in our homecomers department this morning are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roehl and their two children Johnny and Eleanor, who returned Monday from Estes Park, Colo., where they had been spending the past month.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hoffman of Scottsbluff are the parents of a daughter, Cynthia Anne, who was born Sunday, September 28. Mr. Hoffman is the former Pauline Harmon of Hastings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Harmon. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hoffman of Lincoln.

Convalescing at St. Elizabeth hospital following an emergency appendectomy Saturday afternoon is young Rex Meyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Meyers.

Leaving this week end for Atlantic City, N. J. to attend the National Prison Congress are Mrs. Loretta Walker and Mrs. Loretta Walker. Before returning from the congress, which will be held from October 5 to 10, the travelers will visit New York and parts of Canada.

WOMAN'S Minerva's Mail

Take Your Troubles To Minerva

When I returned to my old Minerva's Mail desk this time I stated that the purpose of this column, and I suspect the same thing is true of every such column, is to permit people to unburden their minds of problems and troubles that they would not choose to discuss with their families, in-laws, or intimate friends. That is exactly the reason for its existence, and I am glad to note that it is being used for that purpose. Most of us are proud—we like to give our neighbors, our friends, and that all is well with us. That is good psychology, and not only is a good psychology from our own personal standpoint, but it relieves our neighbors and friends of many embarrassing moments. They don't know what to say, they are not sure they should advise, and they know, too, that the moment we have told them all of our troubles we shall immediately regret it—that causes a slight barrier—and there you are.

I am sure the following letter, had it been told first to the neighbors, would have caused distinct factions in this particular neighborhood.

Dear Minerva: I have been worrying about a problem for a period of two years. It is one I don't want any of my friends or family to know about—yet, so, I am unloading it on you. I have been trying to make up my mind whether I should divorce my husband or whether I should ignore what I know he has been up to for these many, many months. Keeping it to myself and not knowing the best thing to do is making me a nervous wreck.

Here is the story. My husband, in his very early forties, is quite a handsome man—am bitious, witty, and certainly uninhibited as far as other women are concerned. Ever since I married him there has been at one time or another some girl to whom he gave his heart, momentarily, but I didn't worry too much about it even though I could not quite accept it as a requisite for a happy marriage. As long as it was one girl and then another I felt there was no particular danger to our home. We have two children—both girls, one fifteen and the other seventeen. I am sure they must know what is going on right in our own neighborhood although it never has been mentioned. About two years ago a family moved into a new house about three doors down the street, a young couple with two little boys. A very short time after they had moved into the neighborhood the husband died, and of course the neighbors did everything they could to help. My husband and I felt very sorry for the young widow and her two little fellows, and used to take them riding on Sundays, planned picnics and neighborhood affairs. The widow began asking my husband's advice about business matters, either coming to our home or asking him to go to hers. No one thought anything about it—then. But the business is all settled, and the rides and picnics go on—but without my daughters and me—or any of the other neighbors. Of course there always is an excuse, but they are so ridiculous that if the situation weren't so serious, it would be funny. Now I can do one of two things—divorce him or stay, and that is what has been on my mind for a long time. I am not so interested in doing what's best for me, but I am wondering what the reaction would be as far as our daughters are concerned. My husband and I have had a few words about this matter from time to time, but he tells me I am imagining things and laughs and makes fun of what he blithely calls my "jealous disposition." Were it simply a matter of jealousy things would have happened long ago—now it is serious business with a great deal depending upon the right answer.

—Nora.

Let's discuss this situation tomorrow, Nora, shall we?

EXCHANGE Food For Beauty

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

How a satisfying lunch can be toted to school or business without also totting unwanted, hip-spreading calories is a problem that gets dropped into this column's Question Box with great regularity. It's a problem that many of you lovelies have.

Well, to start with, the problem cannot be solved if all you plan to carry is an ordinary box of some sort. It takes a particular kind of box—one that is roomy and able to carry two thermos bottles, waxed cups, a stainless and sturdy knife, fork and spoon. And for preparations, be sure you have an assortment of waxed cups in several sizes as well as either waxed or aluminum paper.

Slimming Box Lunches

Here's a sample of the kind of beauty food you can pack with that kind of equipment:

Menu 1. Cup clear broth (canned or kitchen-made); generous slice of cold lean meat or fowl, home-cooked, canned or from the delicatessen; cottage cheese nestled in grated cabbage and sprinkled with onion juice or coarse pepper; 2 slices whole-wheat melba; fresh pear; cup of skim milk or unsweetened hot beverage.

Menu 2. Cup hot minestrone, now available in cans; 2 bread sticks; crisp lettuce leaves tossed with lemon juice and pepper; raw apple; milk or unsweetened hot beverage.

Menu 3. Cup hot stew, left-over or canned (be sure to remove the potatoes), sliced tomato; 2 celery stalks; 2 crackers; 1 simple cookie; favorite beverage.

With all of its variety, nutrition and appetite appeal, not one of these lunch-box lunches contains as many calories as four slices of buttered white bread.

Toastmistress Club Dinner

Mrs. Mildred Weibert was toastmistress Monday evening at the regular dinner-meeting of the Lincoln Toastmistress club, held in the Stuart room of the Y.W.C.A. In charge of table topics was Miss Bertha Johnston, and Miss Anne Gustafson served as general evaluator.

Ceremony At Plattsmouth

Ivory and burgundy-shaded gladioli florets, and lighted white cathedral candles appointed the chancel of the First Presbyterian church at Plattsmouth, for the marriage of Miss Dorothy Jean Cappell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Cappell of Plattsmouth, to William Charles Marbaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Marbaker of Costa Mesa, Cal., which was solemnized Sunday afternoon, September 21. The Rev. Keith Delap officiated at the 3 o'clock ceremony.

David Cappell, brother of the bride, lighted the candles as Miss Phyllis Bourck sang, "Through The Years", and "The Lord's Prayer". She was accompanied by Mrs. Richard Schade, organist, who also played the wedding music.

The matron of honor was Mrs. John Biegger of Omaha, and bridesmaid was Miss Darleen Liscus of Alma. The attendants' identical frocks were fashioned of ruffle-trimmed net in the peacock blue tone with fitted basque and flaring ballerina-length skirts. They carried rounded bouquets of burgundy gladioli florets.

A flaring winged collar accentuated the bride's gown of white Chantilly lace over satin and net. The long sleeves of the molded bodice tapered to bridal points over the hands, and the widely shirred skirt was waltz-length. A cap of lace over satin held her waist veil of silk illusion, and she carried a cascade of white feathered carnations and stephanotis.

The bride, who wore a beige knitted suit with red accessories for traveling, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, Omicron Nu and Tassel. Mr. Marbaker, also a graduate of the University of Nebraska, is a member of Acadia fraternity and was active in the university band.

Medical Clinic Ordinance Killed By City Council

Two Votes Are In Favor Of Proposal

The City Council has killed a proposed ordinance permitting medical clinics in Apartment A zoning classifications.

The change had been requested to permit erection of a clinic on property at 1308 So. 17th and 1705 B, now zoned apartment A. Two Council members, Roy Sheaff and Chauncey W. D. Kinsey, voted for the ordinance.

A group of property owners in the area who protested the change have now requested that the property involved be changed back to residence C zoning. A petition for such action was submitted and signed by Frank DeBrown, C. Mervyn Downs, Mr. and Mrs. Jelinek and W. I. Adams.

City Attorney C. Russell Mattson told the Council he doubted the authority of the petitioners to seek a change in zoning of another person's property. The petition was referred to Mattson for a report next week.

The following ordinances were approved on third reading by the Council:

Abolishment of the city's free legal aid bureau.

Paving of Myrtle, 52nd to 53rd.

Water in 51st, South to Newton.

Water in 42nd, High to the south line of block 1, Wittman Willows and Curtis Drive, 42nd to Sheridan.

Graveling of 69th, Fairfax to Asleworth.

Disposal Levy Of 2 Mills To Be On Ballot

OMAHA (P) — Among Omaha officials currently wrestling a garbage disposal problem, there appeared agreement Monday that:

1. The drive for a Nov. 4 vote on a 2-mill trash and garbage disposal levy will continue.
2. Officials will promise both trash and garbage pickup if the levy is voted.
3. The city will make every effort, no matter what the outcome of the levy vote, to utilize the garbage for animal food.

Protests Filed

Omaha has been dumping garbage in the Missouri River as the result of a new state law which bans feeding of raw garbage to hogs. Downtown points, especially Nebraska City, have protested.

Mayor Glenn Cunningham Tuesday will ask the city council to approve a contract to pay $2,500 a month to the Omaha Alcohol Plant to convert the garbage into livestock feed.

If the 2-mill garbage and trash disposal levy is approved, it appears likely that home owners will need two refuse containers, one for garbage and one for trash.

At present, Omaha residents have to arrange their own trash disposal.

NEW BRIDGE UNDER WAY—Rock Island workmen have been busy unloading materials and equipment needed to construct a new railroad bridge over Dead Man's Run at 32nd. (Star Photo.)

Rock Island Begins Construction On New Bridge Over Dead Man's Run

The Rock Island Railroad began work Monday on construction of a new bridge over Dead Man's Run at 32nd.

William Dotson, Rock Island traffic engineer at Lincoln, said the men, materials and equipment needed to do the job were unloaded Saturday. The men, Dotson said, are committed to stay in Lincoln until the bridge is completed.

The new bridge was one of the major flood control recommendations for Dead Man's Run made in a report by Alvord, Burdick & Howson, Chicago. Their estimate of the cost of the new bridge was $20,000.

It is understood, however, that the Rock Island is planning even a larger bridge than recommended as adequate in the Howson report.

The Chicago firm also called for a new Burlington bridge over the creek estimated to cost $20,000.

As soon as the bridge work is completed, Sanitary District 1 plans to widen and deepen the channel at a cost in excess of $200,000. That job, however, may take some time and the city may in a report by Alvord, Burdick & Howson, Chicago. Their estimate of the cost.

Way Is Paved To Continue Controls On Denver's Rents

WASHINGTON (P) — Denver, Colo., was declared a critical defense housing area Monday, paving the way for continuation of rent controls.

By city council action, rent controls in Denver were due to expire Tuesday.

The Economic Stabilization Agency said the critical area designation was made because of defense plant activity, and the existence of five military and one atomic plant in the Denver area.

State Supreme Court Opens Autumn Term

The state Supreme court opened the autumn term of court Monday after a summer recess. All seven members of the court were on the bench, Chief Justice Robert Simmons having returned Sunday from a trip to the Orient in behalf of the State Department.

Eighteen cases were on the call to be heard during the four-day session in addition to hearing pending motions on cases previously heard or on appeal.

Oral arguments were heard in the annexation case of the Pershing School district to Omaha on appeal from Douglas County.

Council Appoints Jeary As Co-Head Of P Street Group

City Councilman Clark Jeary has been appointed co-chairman of the Council committee working on the opening of P Street across the Rock Island tracks at 21st.

The appointment was made on the request of Councilman Rees Wilkinson who has been chairman of the committee. Wilkinson told the Council it was time the street opening was reviewed and affirmative action taken by the Council to get the job done.

Wilkinson also took note of the fact that removal of the Rock Island passenger station has been considered the only way of getting the street opened. He also pointed out that the city has no money with which to negotiate with the Rock Island in regards to condemnation proceedings for the opening.

Jeary told the Council that a Rock Island vice-president will be in Lincoln in connection with the railroad's 100th anniversary celebration next Monday and that the official is expected to have a report on the proposed opening.

Condemnation Hearing Continued To Nov. 3

The City Council has continued to Nov. 3 the hearing on condemnation of property at 5011 Prescott, owned by Ancil VanSyc.

At a hearing Monday, the property was described by Building Inspector Ed Vorhees as a fire hazard and in a state of dilapidation. VanSyc will be given to Nov. 3 to start repairs on the structure to bring it into conformity with the city's building codes.

Estimates Of $19,100 Approved By Council

The City Council has approved estimates totaling $19,100 for construction of five special improvement districts.

Paving of the east-west alley from 7th to 8th between O and N $2,400.

Paving of 24th, Potter to Fair, $9,500.

Northeast, Links Get Usual Work

Impending Title Fray Fails Bring About Change In Programs

By WAYNE PANTER
Star Sports Staff Member

This year's city grid classic pitting Lincoln and Northeast High Schools stacks up as the most evenly-matched fray in recent intra-city football history. But that fact had little effect on Monday's drills as Coaches Bill Pfeiff and Bun Galloway primed their charges for the game that may decide the state as well as the city championship.

At Northeast, Galloway sent his Rockets through their usual top-of-the-week workout consisting mainly of fundamentals. And down on the 22nd and Randolph practice lot Pfeiff's Links went through a couple of mild scrimmages interspersed with work on fundamentals and passing drills.

But both clubs will dig in today. Maestros Pfeiff and Galloway promised that their charges would get the scrimmaging treatment with special attention being given to the defensive phase of the game.

Wednesday will see a tapering off with the Rockets working on kicking, passing and pass defense and the Links devoting their attention to offensive work and fundamentals.

Pfeiff's comments regarding the Links' loss last week were succinct. "Our club looked both good and bad," he said, pointing to occasions when the offense had clicked and to others when it had fallen down. "The game wasn't a real test. I think that Beatrice was considerably beaten down by its two previous games, both against tough opponents," Pfeiff said. "This game this week marks a turning point where we're concerned. Now is where the opposition really gets tough."

Galloway declared that Northeast's win over Fremont wasn't as close as the 7-0 score might indicate. "We scored too soon—in less than four minutes—and I think we let down a little after that."

Both teams had long runs called back. The Tigers had a 72-yard touchdown jaunt nullified by a holding penalty and Northeast's Junior Thomas reeled off a 40-yard effort to the Tiger 12 only to have the ball brought back by an offside ruling.

Galloway reported two injuries, neither of which were serious. Starting Center Irvin Pfeiffer has a bruised knee and Keith Fager, who runs at the halfback behind Steele, has an infected hand. Pfeiffer worked out Monday night and both boys are expected to be ready Friday.

Mike Edwards, Lincoln center who suffered a twisted knee in the Beatrice game, will probably miss the city classic. Edwards is confined to a bed with his knee in a cast.

College View gridgers got wind sprints, blocking, tackling and more wind sprints Monday in preparation for a week of rugged drills. Coach Tom Gillaspie said that the Viewmen would concentrate on stopping Vinnie Lanek, Wahoo's threat on end sweeps.

The Viewmen play at Wahoo Friday. Gillaspie said that a number of the sophomores and freshmen on his squad were given much-needed game experience in the Viewmen's win over Omaha Westside last week. "We hope that the experience they gained in that game will benefit us in games later in the season," Gillaspie said.

Coach Vince Aldrich gave his Cathedral charges the day off Monday but said that the Bluebirds would "go at full steam" the remainder of the week despite the fact that they are not scheduled to play this week.

Aldrich welcomed the open date Friday, explaining that, although Cathedral topped St. Patrick's of Fremont, 24-6, last week, the contest was a tough one.

End Tom Hickman came out of the game with an injured hip and will be on the inactive list for "at least two weeks," Aldrich said.

During the next two weeks the Bluebirds will assimilate new plays. Plays now being used will be revised.

Bud Wilkinson Says Sooners Victims Of 'Honest Mistake' At Boulder

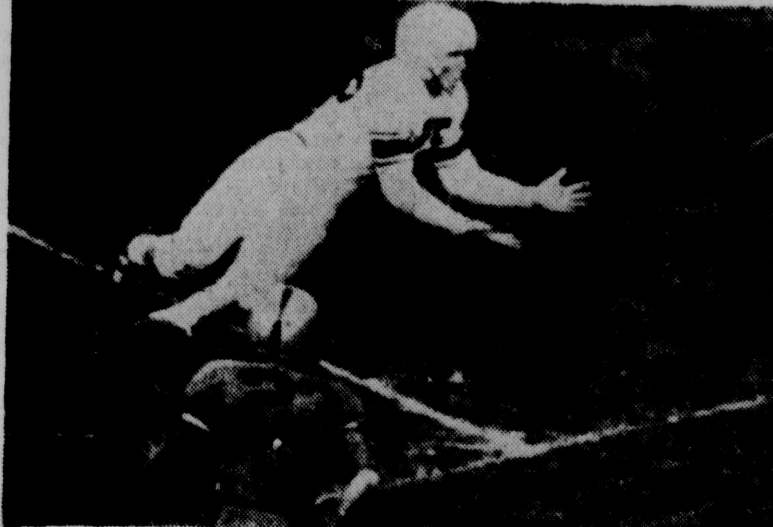

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Bud Wilkinson, University of Oklahoma football coach, said Monday an "honest mistake" by the officials cost his team a touchdown in its 21-21 tie with Colorado Saturday.

"I think the officials missed it," Wilkinson told the Oklahoma City Quarterback Club when asked about a disputed pass play which came late in the first half of the game at Boulder, Colo.

With Oklahoma leading 14-7, Buddy Leake passed 13 yards to Billy Vessels in the end zone. Vessels lunged for the ball and gathered it in as he fell to the turf. The officials decided Vessels trapped the ball against the ground and ruled it an incomplete pass.

Oklahoma then failed to score, and Colorado moved ahead 21-14, forcing the Sooners to come from behind in the closing moments to gain the dead-end tie. It was a disappointing season-opener for the Sooners, who had been rated one of the nation's four best teams in the pre-season Associated Press poll and were two-touchdown favorites to beat Colorado.

Wilkinson assured the Quarterback Club he was "not bitter" over the officials' decision despite the fact he thought it was DISPUTED PLAY—Oklahoma Grid Coach Bud Wilkinson says an official's ruling on this play cost his team a touchdown in its 21-21 tie with Colorado at Boulder last Saturday. Billy Vessels is shown receiving an end zone pass which Umpire Bob Miller ruled incomplete. Wilkinson said Monday the pass was caught and should have been wrong. "Over a long period of time you get some good breaks and you get some bad ones," he said. "It all averages out. Officials make mistakes—in all sports. This was simply an honest mistake that went against us."

A Letter To The Huskers

A hearty slap on the back to each and everyone of you. Remember we said that the Oregon game was the "make or break" one? Well, you made it in a big way.

In dousing the favored Webs, 28-13, you showed the world that Nebraska teams have a very real lost the fundamentals of rugged blocking and tackling that is their historic legacy.

This was a big step on your road back, a proud step and one in which every Nebraskan took personal pride.

You set yourself a pattern out there in Portland. You showed that blocking and tackling still is what wins football games.

Don't lose the formula. You can't afford to let up a single iota Saturday against Iowa State.

You're going to need every bit of that pass defense you threw up against the Webs. Give this chap Dick Mann one let-up or careless moment and he'll pass you right out of Memorial Stadium.

Mann rates as one of America's best college passers. Look what he did last year—104 completions in 212 tries, for 1,296 yards. He throws 'em long and he throws 'em short and he usually hits.

Behind Mann is another ace tosser in Bill Plantan, Columbia University transfer. There are

Sammy Baugh Banished As Redskins Bump Cards, 23-7

CHICAGO (AP)—Sammy Baugh, 38-year-old player-coach, was tossed out of his first pro game Monday night for fighting but not until he had completed 11 straight passes to lead his Washington Redskins to a 23-7 upset National Football League victory over the Chicago Cardinals.

The venerable Baugh hit on all 11 of his tosses in the first half for 87 yards and two touchdowns.

Nebraska Hears Warning Against Aerials

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

STORM warnings on a possible aerial barrage were posted in the University of Nebraska football camp Monday as the Huskers started preparations for the Iowa State game.

Giving the premonitions was Scout Ray Prochaska, who watched the Cyclones drop a 33-7 game to vaunted Illinois at Champaign Saturday.

"Consider that Iowa State made 12 first downs against Illinois, which has one of the Big Ten's tightest defenses," warned Prochaska.

He admitted that the Cyclones had not enjoyed one of their best days, but put in a word for their fight and determination.

Iowa State did show a weakness at pass defense, as was attested by the fact that Tommy O'Connor, Illinois quarterback, completed 11 or 16 tries for 191 yards and three touchdowns.

The Cyclone's best bet was Carl Bretschneider, an offensive guard who doubled as a linebacker. His play in each direction bothered the Illinois.

Prochaska explained why Iowa State's ace quarterback Dick Mann had such a bad day. He hit only one of four passes for no yards and had two intercepted.

"Mann got back to school late after a naval cruise and then was injured," explained Prochaska. "He has actually had only about a week of work."

He added that Mann should

'Huskers Gained Confidence' Glassford Tells Quarterbacks

By The Star Sports Editor
NEBRASKA gained a keen lesson in confidence in surprising Oregon, 28-13, at Portland Saturday night, Coach J. William Glassford told the University Club Quarterbacks Monday noon.

"It was necessary to regain our confidence and instill in our boys the belief that they can play this game of football," Glassford said. "I think we did both."

"We were a little jittery at the start, but we found ourselves in the second half. I thought we blocked and tackled well," he added.

Nebraska's pass defense, he said, was "particularly encouraging."

"We took turns at pressuring the passer with first three, then five and then seven men," he explained, "and our backs did a pretty fair job of covering."

He thought that a great deal of Nebraska's success could be traced to almost complete control of the ball during the second half.

"Offensively, we had the ball on 81 plays, compared to Oregon's 41. That made the difference."

Glassford felt that his squad still has a long way to go before plunging into a heavy Big Seven schedule, starting with Iowa State Saturday.

"We are not yet completely over the hump," he warned.

He pleaded with the Quarterbacks to "not become too optimistic," although admitting his squad "did things that looked better for the long haul."

The high humidity and foreign climate seemed to cut into the squad's conditioning during the first half, he thought.

"However, the boys seemed to get a second wind which might be traced to their desire and the fact that they are in good physical condition."

Thirty of the 38 men who made the trip saw action.

The fair catch on punts, used frequently by the Huskers in their two games thus far, was defended by Glassford. He said it afforded greater safety in ball

Beatrice Reserves Hit By LHS Sophs, 34-7

Lincoln High School Sophomore grid crew trounced the Beatrice Reserves, 34-6, at the LHS Oval Monday afternoon.

Martin Myers scored two touchdowns for the Junior Links while another high spot in the win was Wayne Roberts' 78-yard touchdown jaunt on a kickoff return.

Omaha Fighter Wins

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Nelson Levering, Omaha, Neb., came from behind Monday night to earn a unanimous 10-round decision over Kid Centella, Managua, Nicaragua, Lightweight.

Levering was dropped to the canvas in the second round by a left hook and a tremendous right hand smash. He was being counted out when the bell rang.

The aggressive Levering staged a great comeback. With both eyes severely cut, Levering outfought Centella to gain the decision. Both fighters weighed 139.

Cambridge, Rushville Are Leaders In Class C Race

25-7, as the Buffaloes dropped from fifth to seventh place, and Grant moved up a notch after blanking Trenton, 33-0. It was the third straight whitewash by the Plainsmen.

Newcomers Clarks and Wymore replace West Point and Polk in the top ten. Clarks is still unbeaten after knocking Stromsburg, 59-13, and Coach Don Dusek has piloted his Zephyrs to an undefeated season to date. Tecumseh was a 12-7 victim of the Zephyrs Friday night.

Although unbeaten, Polk and West Point were dropped from the upper bracket because of weak showings Friday.

Still boasting an unbroken goal line, the Wayne Blue Devils gained the nod for fifth place by blanking Wakefield, 40-0. The Blue Devils have rolled to 101 points in their first three games this season.

Completing the remainder of the Top Ten in order are Tecamah, York, Fullerton, David City and Albion.

York and Albion are the only newcomers to the select group, replacing Crete and Bayard. York bounded into seventh place by nipping previously-undefeated Seward, 7-0, while Albion, in tenth place, rocked Neligh, 33-13, for the Cardinals' third win of the season. Crete was squeezed from the top ten when Aurora surprised the Cardinals, 20-0.

Tekamah moved up to sixth place after tripping Decatur, 19-6, and Fullerton tightened its hold on eighth with a 32-0 whitewash of Genoa.

Cambridge, with its full contingent of lettermen, continued to roll over its Class C competitors, with Oxford being the latest victim. Coach Bill Stephenson's Trojans have racked up 131 points compared to their opponents' 38 for three games.

Rushville, idle last week, retaining its hold on the runner-up position, while Oskosh challenged the number two team by stopping Bridgeport, 13-6.

Showing signs of being the top Class C team in the eastern part of the state, the Syracuse Rockets romped to their third straight triumph at the expense of Humboldt. The Rockets have tallied 87 points while holding their opponents scoreless.

Also bounding an untouched goal line, the Poncha Pedregosa advanced from number seven to fifth place by blanking defending champion Oakland, 20-0.

Completing the Top Ten in order are Arapahoe, Chappell, Grant, Clarks and Wymore.

Arapahoe slipped from fourth to sixth because of a weaker schedule to date than the top five clubs have played. Coach Ralph Dankroger guided his Indians to a 19-0 licking of Elwood in their last outing.

Chappell thumped Kimball.

Plainsmen 'B' Club Hits Doane College Cubs, 23-7

THE NEBRASKA Wesleyan "B" squad celebrated its season opener Monday afternoon by trouncing the Doane College "B" string 34-7, at O. N. Magee Stadium.

The Plainsmen drew first blood four minutes after the opening gun when Quarterback Bill Bowman carted the leather across from six yards out to climax an 80-yard drive. Bill Buck converted for the extra point, the first of four successful kicks during the afternoon.

With 4:33 left in the second quarter, Buck hit Roger Barry with a five yard pass and Barry rambled 15 yards to score.

The Tiger Reserves tallied their lone marker with 51 seconds remaining in the quarter when Rod Haskins blocked a Wesleyan punt on the 20-yard stripe and Kenny Fridrich scooped up the loose ball and made his way to the end zone. Terry Elbourne converted.

On the first play from scrimmage in the second half, Dick Lewis cut over his right tackle and sped 69 yards to score.

Wesleyan countered again before the quarter was over when Vernon Ellis scooted over from the two yard stripe. The touchdown was set up when Wesleyan recovered a Tiger fumble on the Tigers' 18.

Bowmaster hit Charles Ladley with a 10-yard pass and then hit Jim Shaw with a six-yard toss to make way for Ellis' plunge.

The final Plainsmen tally came with 1:41 remaining in the game when Richard Ellis intercepted a Doane pass on the Tigers' 45 and ran untouched to pay dirt.

Line score:

CHANGES MIND — Bob Elm, Doane senior halfback, has decided to play again this fall.

Doane's Elm Checks Out For Football

CRETE, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special) — Doane's football fortunes took turn to the better Monday when Bob Elm, senior halfback from Genoa, reported for practice.

Elm, a three year letterman, changed his mind from an earlier decision to give up the sport this fall. He was a starter on the Tigers' champion and co-champion eleven of 1950 and 1951.

His addition to the squad will give Coach Aub Givens some added depth in both defense and offense.

The Bengal boss indicated he was thinking of switching Bill Lockover, burly fullback from Clay Center, to an end post on offense to make up for the loss of Clarence Cook, 6 foot 5 inch end from McCook, who last week was declared ineligible by the Nebraska College Conference eligibility committee.

Assistant Coach Ken Kasperek reported the Tigers will have to be at their very best if they expect to beat Midland here Friday night.

Gridders Debus And Lehl Fail To Attend Classes

A Nebraska Wesleyan University administrative official today said that neither Bill Debus nor Don Lehl are attending classes at Nebraska Wesleyan.

Hayes did a spot of checking after the Indiana game. The scales showed Cassidy weighing 155 pounds.

Iowa State Cyclones Due For General Overhauling

By The Associated Press
AMES, Ia.—Coach Abe Stuber put the Iowa State College football squad through a lengthy limbering up session Monday and said the Cyclones were in for a "general overhauling" this week as they prepare for their Big Seven opener Saturday with Nebraska.

Stuber said the Cyclones played well Saturday in their 33-7 loss to Illinois but would have to play much better ball if they hope to beat their jinx foe, Nebraska. Iowa State hasn't whipped the Huskers since 1945.

Veteran tackle Bill Byrnes, out with a dislocated elbow for several weeks, may see some action Saturday, Stuber said.

LAWRENCE, Kas.—Kansas Jayhawkers were cheered Monday by news that Quarterback Gil Reich's shoulder injury simply was an aggravated bruise and that he'll be ready for the Colorado game Saturday.

X-rays relieved fears that the injury was a shoulder separation. Reich worked in a passing drill Monday with the rest of the Jayhawkers who played against Santa Clara. The reserves got a short scrimmage session.

MANHATTAN, Kan.—The Kansas State Wildcats prepared for next Saturday's game with Missouri by polishing up timing of offensive plays Monday.

Coach Bill Meek praised the team for its showing against Cincinnati University last Saturday night. The Wildcats lost, 13 to 6, but Meek said it was one of the best any of his K-State teams turned in.

Center Augie Keller and Larry Hartshorn, out with injuries for two weeks, returned to the squad.

End Jack McShulkis, guard Tom O'Boyle and fullback Carvel Oldham were favoring injuries Monday but are expected to see action against Missouri.

Chicago's Rivera Faces Rape Charge

CHICAGO (AP)—Jim Rivera, 30-year-old Chicago White Sox outfielder, Monday was charged with raping a 22-year-old married woman and was released on $3,000 bond.

The rookie ball player, who previously had served a five year sentence in Atlanta Penitentiary on a similar charge, was ordered to appear in felony court Tuesday for a hearing.

Rivera, a New York-born Puerto Rican, was arrested Sunday in the White Sox clubhouse, following the game with the St. Louis Browns.

The complainant, Mrs. Janet Gater, attractive brunette wife of a soldier, told authorities she was raped Saturday night in her South Side apartment.

Rivera admitted being intimate with Mrs. Gater but denied using force. He said she submitted willingly after inviting him to her apartment.

Patrick Egan, assistant state's attorney, ordered Rivera booked for rape after questioning the ball player and the woman. The prosecutor said his questioning had produced no important addition to what both had told police earlier.

Police said Mrs. Gater told them she was walking her dog Saturday when Rivera introduced himself and offered to carry her packages. She said he accompanied her to her apartment, pushed his way in and refused to leave. Police said she told them the rape followed.

Mrs. Gater said her husband, a statistician at Fifth Army Headquarters, was absent at the time.

Rivera, former Seattle, Wash., Pacific Coast League star, told police he is separated from his wife, Maxine, but that they recently decided to become reconciled.

The ball player's entrance into the big leagues stirred up a storm of controversy because of his previous trouble, which occurred at Barksdale Field, La., while he was serving in the Army.

A charge of attempted rape was brought by the daughter of an Army officer. Convicted, Rivera was sentenced to life imprisonment. The sentence later was reduced and he was paroled after five years. He denied the charge.

Neither White Sox nor American League officials were available today for comment.

Rivera's batting average was .252 up until Saturday's game, exceeded only by five other White Sox regulars.

He had 21 stolen bases—one less than teammate Minnie Minoso, the league champion. Rivera had hit seven home runs, nine triples and batted in 48 runs.

Speed Ace John R. Cobb Dies In Scottish Boat Wreck

LOCH NESS, Scotland (AP)—British speed ace John Rhodes Cobb Monday drove his jet-propelled speedboat Crusader faster than man ever before had travelled on water—206.89 miles an hour—then died in an explosion that blew his craft to bits.

Cobb, 52, was hurled into the waters of fabled Loch Ness before the eyes for his horrified wife, Vera, and hundreds of other spectators. His 6,000 horsepower hydroplane disappeared in a cloud of smoke and spray.

A lifebelt enabled him to float around for a while before he was picked up by a tiny boat. Some witnesses said he died of a broken neck aboard the rescue craft. But Comdr. Arthur Bray, in charge of the timekeepers and one of the first to reach Cobb in the water, said he believed death was instantaneous.

Cobb's $42,000 boat disintegrated during the first of two scheduled runs aimed at shattering the world's water speed run of 176.497 miles an hour set last July by Stanley Sayres of Seattle, Wash.

High Court Orders Boy Back To Communist Homeland

By TOM STONE
FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The U. S. High Commission Court of Appeals ruled Monday that an 11-year-old boy, brought up in "free enterprise" West Germany by foster parents, must return with his Yugoslav mother to their Communist-ruled homeland.

The boy's real mother, Mrs. Pavla Pirenik, smiled joyously through tears as the 2-1 decision granting her custody of her son, Ivan, after a forced separation of nine years, was announced.

In broken German, she said over and over, "I am so happy, I am so happy."

Lengthy Battle
The split decision—Chief Justice William Clark of Princeton, N. J., dissented—brought an end to a lengthy court battle over the boy, who pleaded tearfully that he wanted to stay with his foster parents, Gustav and Josefina Sirsch.

The same Court of Appeals had ruled previously that the young boy should remain in Western Germany rather than return to a country dominated by Communism. But the court decided to reconsider the case after the child's mother, backed by the Yugoslav government, flew to Germany to make a personal plea for her son's return.

Chief Justice Clark said in his opinion "it seems thoroughly inconsistent for American judges to condemn a helpless child to a country whose ideas of government and economics are held to be criminal in the land that gave them birth."

Father Killed
The boy was adopted by the Sirschs after his father, a resistance fighter, was killed by the Gestapo, and his mother was sent to a concentration camp. Ivan's foster father was in Hitler's Elite Guard during the war.

Mrs. Pirenik began a search for her son after she was released from the concentration camp. She finally located him in 1949 through the Red Cross and the International Refugee organization. Since then she has been trying to get him back.

The court Monday ordered the foster parents instructed to take their adopted son to Kassel, Tuesday where the real mother would take possession and return him to Yugoslavia.

More Than 100 Attend Farewell For Rev. Julius Brooks At Quinn Chapel

More than 100 Quinn Chapel AME congregation members and guests attended the all-church appreciation reception in honor of Rev. Julius B. Brooks, Quinn Chapel pastor, his wife and four children.

Rev. Brooks, who has served the Lincoln church for the past four years, will leave in the near future for Sacramento, Calif., where he will be pastor of the First AME Church.

Paying tribute to Rev. Brooks, besides his congregation, were ministers from three Lincoln churches: Rev. William Munroe, Mt. Zion Baptist; Rev. R. G. Nathan, Newman Methodist; and Rev. Trago McWilliams, Christ Temple.

"We have found Rev. Brooks a man of unsurpassed worth," said Rev. McWilliams. "He has not only made a material but a spiritual contribution to Quinn Chapel, Lincoln and the world."

Noting that Rev. Brooks is a man called by God to preach to the world, Rev. Nathan said, "His promotion to a new charge is quite in order. What he accomplished for his people in Lincoln is indicative of what he can do elsewhere."

Also on hand to pay tribute was a former minister of Quinn Chapel, Rev. Lewis Goolsby of Columbia, Mo., Rev. Alfred Newton of Beatrice, and Rev. C. S. Williams, Holiness Church. Words of appreciation were spoken by Paul C. Lewis, chairman of the board of trustees who sponsored the reception.

Presentation of congregation gifts was made by Mrs. Frances Robinson. Vocal solos were sung by Mrs. Clyde Coulter. Hostesses for the luncheon following the reception included ladies of the church auxiliaries.

Serving at the table were Mrs. John Irving and Mrs. Clinton Conrad.

Captains of other groups, business and professional, wholesale and retail and public departments, will meet individually Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The business and professional group will meet Wednesday at the Chamber of Commerce, and the other two will meet at the Cornhusker Hotel.

City Walk Inspector To Examine Curb Cuts

In accord with the request of Councilwoman Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme, the city sidewalk inspector will make a study of curb cuts ordered closed last July.

The Council was told Monday that of the 32 cuts ordered closed, seven had been closed, two were in contact with the paving repair department relative to closing, four were now being used, three have been requested left open and 16 have had no action on them.

Future Council study will be given to all those not yet closed.

The Republicans don't seem to be getting any smarter. They let Maurice Hobin whoop up the dangers of the Taft-Hartley Act like it always had been poison to the Democrats.

Shucks, anybody who takes the trouble to look it up could find that 103 Democrats in the House voted for the act and 66 against it. In the Senate 17 Democrats voted to override and 22 to uphold the veto.

Then when Truman vetoed it, 106 Democrats in the House voted the same day to override the veto and 71 to sustain their leader. In the Senate 20 Democrats voted to override and 22 to uphold the veto.

Still the Republicans have always taken old Bill Green's cries against the "Slave Labor Act" as their personal property.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
